

MONTHLYTRAVELGUIDE · FREE GUIDE

The 12-Month Map

Morocco

Every month in Morocco on one page: weather, crowds, price pressure and an honest verdict.

WHEN TO GO. NOT JUST WHERE.

HOW TO READ THE MAP

One page. Twelve rows. One decision.

Each row is one month. Read across and you get the four things that decide whether a month is right for you, and a one-line reason.

THE VERDICT

GO	The best months for most trips. Book early: everyone else knows too.
GOOD	Worth it, with a trade-off you can plan around.
THINK TWICE	Works for some trips. Read the reason before you book.
AVOID	Hard going for most travellers. Only with a specific reason.

CROWDS AND PRICE PRESSURE

- ● ○ ○ Low. Quiet sights, wide choice.
- ● ● ○ Moderate. Book the popular things.
- ● ● ● High. Book early and expect to pay more.

Patterns, not forecasts. The map shows what each month is usually like. Weather varies year to year, and price pressure is relative, never a quoted price. Check entry rules and holiday dates for your own year.

Ramadan moves about eleven days earlier each year. Check its dates for your year: some restaurants keep shorter hours, and travel stays very possible.

GO GOOD THINK TWICE AVOID

When to go: Morocco

Month	Weather	Crowds	Prices	Verdict	Why
January	Mild days, cold nights; Atlas snow	● ○ ○	● ○ ○	GOOD	Quiet medinas and clear light. Desert nights drop near freezing, so pack warm.
February	Mild days, cold nights	● ○ ○	● ○ ○	GOOD	One of the calmest months. Good for cities; cold in desert camps after dark.
March	Warming; green countryside	● ● ○	● ● ○	GO	Comfortable everywhere. European spring holidays start to fill riads.
April	Warm days, cool evenings	● ● ●	● ● ●	GO	Close to ideal weather, so riads and desert camps book up, especially around Easter.
May	Warm to hot inland	● ● ○	● ● ○	GO	Still pleasant in the cities; the south and desert heat up by the end of the month.
June	Hot inland; coast pleasant	● ● ○	● ● ○	GOOD	Fine for the coast and mountains. Midday heat in Marrakech and Fes is strong.
July	Very hot inland and in the desert	● ● ●	● ● ○	THINK TWICE	Summer holiday travel peaks, and heat makes the desert and inland cities hard going.
August	Hottest month	● ● ●	● ● ●	AVOID	Extreme inland heat and the busiest domestic travel. Only the coast is comfortable.
September	Hot early, easing	● ● ○	● ● ○	GOOD	Heat fades through the month and crowds thin. Better in the second half.
October	Warm, settled	● ● ○	● ● ○	GO	Warm days, cooler nights and good desert conditions. One of the best months.
November	Mild days, cool nights	● ○ ○	● ○ ○	GO	Quiet, comfortable and clear, with a wide choice of riads.
December	Cool; cold desert nights	● ● ○	● ● ○	GOOD	Quiet early on; year-end holidays fill Marrakech and the desert camps late in the month.

Patterns, not forecasts. Prices show relative pressure, not quoted prices. Confirm holiday dates and entry rules for your year.

NEXT

From the right month to the right trip

This map is the short version. When to Go: Morocco is the full guide: every month in depth, region by region, with the weather, crowds and closures that matter for each kind of trip.

The Trip Timing Planner picks up from there: booking windows, a 90 / 60 / 30 / 7-day countdown and packing lists by season, for any destination.

MONTHLYTRAVELGUIDE.COM

Free for personal use. Please do not resell.